This course is bringing me to look at different aspects of organisations, adding new skills to my curriculum. The professors are also very highly skilled and supportive. It's very interesting to get to know different aspects of organisation, how it works, how we can improve ourself as well as organisation. Faculty members are taking very good care and efforts to students' success. The management is also very supportive and very helpful. Especially the flexibility to attend the offline as well as online lectures is one of the best things of this course. It's been very grateful for working professionals who stay outside Pune. The study material and E-library are also very helpful to us. Additionally, the beauty of this E-mba course is that we get to know about the different organizations and are able to meet different people from various posts and organizations. It's helpful to understand different organisations and also helpful to increase the network, which is helpful to my professional growth.

I would like to say a big thank you for the great experience I am going through as I learn.

Great to see that all the faculty members are highly qualified with rich experience, and this takes the learning to the whole new level!

During the lectures I don't feel like I am an EMBA student, they get us into the subject in such a way that they immerse us completely in real life examples and when we come out of it we learn the topic in a way no book, video or audit can teach us.

I really appreciate your connection with students, you are very approachable and knowing that you are there to manage, is itself a relief!

Big Thank You!

1. Earlier, I imagine the MBA (Executive) programme which you are offering by and large same will be same as the other universities offer in a conventional way. But, my experience with this in campus study is very remarkable. The way of imparting knowledge by the professors are excellent. The teaching style of Prof Rajesh (operation), Gauri Mam is a paradigm of impeccable way of imparting deliverance of subject matter. The teaching style of other professors are also very exceptional and up to mark. Here, I found more impetus on practical and application base learning which is mostly adopted by European Countries.

2. One thing, I insist you, if possible, kindly direct the professors to adopt lenient approach during evaluation of home assignment.

MBA (E) 2024-26

Based on my journey as an E-MBA student in SIMS for the past 2 months, I could say the professors are top-notch, highly academically accomplished and have in-depth knowledge of their subjects respectively.

As of now, I do face some issues in understanding a few subjects due to the nature of the subject as I am from an IT background, the topics are completely new to me but I am trying my best to understand everything as much as possible. Plus, I am trying to figure out time-management between my work and classes which sometimes become an issue for me to concentrate on.

Other than that, I believe I need to spend some more time to understand more about this programme and its importance for me. Thank you, sir, for being kind and helpful.

MBA (E) 2024-26

Pursuing an Executive MBA was one of the most transformative decisions of my career. Balancing work, study, and personal life was challenging, but the experience was incredibly rewarding. From day one the professors and my fellow colleagues have been really helpful and we have been cross learning a lot from each other and understanding the different aspects of business and industry. The program provided me with strategic thinking skills necessary for effective leadership.

This rich exchange of ideas and experiences enriched my learning and broadened my professional network. The practical, hands-on approach to solving real-world business problems was particularly valuable. It equipped me to immediately apply in my current role based on the inputs and advice from my professors.

Thank you, Pravin sir, for the great opportunity and appreciate your hard work and dedication. I am extremely motivated now to get into a teaching profession down the line as that has also been a passion and you have been one of the motivators for me.

The Executive MBA program at Symbiosis Institute of Management Sciences offers an exceptional learning experience, featuring a well-curated selection of modules that cover crucial business aspects. The program offers a variety of flexible options to attend sessions for working professionals. It provides a unique advantage of attending weekend in-person sessions that the other top-class EMBA programs don't offer. I can also avail the weekend or weekday online option if the need be. This is the best that I have seen. The program offers a reasonable fee structure. The faculty members are expert professors, combining theoretical knowledge with practical discussions. Additionally, this program presents a valuable opportunity to learn from a diverse cohort of fellow students, enriching the overall educational experience. Overall an enriching experience thus far.

Just one suggestion: A lot of my classmates, including myself, feel that the minimum experience criteria should be increased to 3 instead of 1 year. People who have spent 3-5 yrs working have a better perspective of work culture and understand business/corporate dynamics hence the discussions in the class are more mature and fruitful.

Participating in the Executive MBA program is a transformative journey. The program's design integrates advanced theoretical knowledge with actionable real-world applications, equipping us to excel in senior leadership roles. The faculty are exceptional, combining deep industry expertise with a genuine commitment to our development. Their guidance and innovative approaches are designed to enhance my strategic thinking and management skills. This program will also expand my professional network and provide invaluable opportunities for growth. I am proud to represent a cohort of such dedicated professionals and enthusiastically endorse this program to anyone aspiring to elevate my career through a premier Executive MBA experience.

The programme is dynamically designed. "Whatever we learn today can be applied tomorrow"

The best part about this programme is that I can continue learning while I am working. The faculties are highly experienced and the real case approach helps me learn new concepts and implement the same at my work.

The overall experience about the college I will rate as excellent.

I would like to say that this Executive MBA program is absolutely different from the others.

As I'm attending offline, it's actually much more interesting as we have the chance to interact with our fellow mates and the professors in-person. We get to clear our doubts with the professors and mates immediately with much more example scenarios.

In general, all the professors are too good at what they teach they're actually excelling on their part.

All the facilities that we're getting is also good which is pretty rare now in any other college.

And of course, last but not least we have you who guides us at any point of time.

1.I am extremely pleased with the flexibility this Executive MBA program offers. The ability to join lectures and attend classes at my own pace has been a game-changer for me. Given my hectic work schedule, knowing that I can always go back and review recorded lectures ensures I never miss out on any important content.

2.Despite being an executive program, it truly feels like I'm part of a full-time MBA experience. The exposure to real-world scenarios, coupled with the engaging activities and interactions, has made this program incredibly enriching and immersive. It's the perfect balance of flexibility and comprehensive learning.

Being associated with the esteemed SIMS institute has been a pleasure. The clarity of the program and the support provided by the institute in addressing queries have been commendable. The faculty members are excellent, and their teaching methods are both effective and easy to understand. They also provide real-world examples that are highly relatable.

It would be even more helpful if the faculty could provide consolidated study materials for us to review.

Thank you for the opportunity to be part of such a great institute and to learn from such outstanding faculty.

The Executive MBA program stands out for its comprehensive curriculum, exceptional faculty, and unparalleled flexibility for working professionals. One of the major advantages is the extended library hours for Executive MBA students, providing access to a vast range of books and resources, making it easy to dive deeper into any subject. Students also have the flexibility to switch between online and offline batches, allowing them to balance personal and professional commitments seamlessly. The inclusion of morning tea and evening snacks fosters a sense of community, encouraging casual interactions between students and faculty outside of class. This program truly offers everything you could ask for, providing a chance to relive the college experience while building lifelong friendships. A special thanks to Pravin Sir, Balu Sir, and the entire support staff for their unwavering dedication to ensuring the program's continued success.
